As faculty of the Department of Elementary and Early Childhood, We have reviewed the PDP submitted by Dr. Elizabeth Sandell.

Criterion 1: Demonstrated ability to teach effectively and/or perform effectively in other current assignments. The department values the efforts of its members in the area of teaching excellence. The ongoing updating and course revision process that Dr. Sandell engages in for the EEC 222w course allows it to continue to be a high demand course in general education.

Criterion 2: Scholarly or creative achievement or research. Dr. Sandell's proposal to present at conferences as well as submit book chapters/articles for publication definitely fit within expectations of the department for Criteria 2.

Criterion 3: Evidence of continuing preparation and study. Dr. Sandell has met her goals for Criteria 3 as laid out in her PDP.

Criterion 4: Contribution to student growth and development. The department value's Dr. Sandell's commitment to undergraduate student development in research, along with the mentoring she provides students in this area.

Criterion 5: Service to the university and community. Dr. Sandell's proposed goals and activities in Criterion #5 fit within the expectations of the department.
